Celebration Assembly—
2:25pm

Thank you to those parents who came to Parent Partnership meetings yesterday they were very well attended and feedback has been very positive. If you were unable to come on this occasion please ask your class teacher for information you may need.

The teachers are planning this term's school visits for KS1 children. Unfortunately some parents do not contribute to these visits which is not fair. Although there is a certain amount of school money allocated to trips, we do rely on parents making a contribution. We have looked at the numbers and predict that at as many as 30 parents will not make a contribution. If this is the case the trip will be cancelled as the school will not be able to make up the shortfall. Parents who would like their child to go on the trip but cannot afford the contribution should come and see me or write to me. If you do not wish your child to go on the trip they can stay in school and related activities will be provided.

On Friday we will have our first celebration assembly for the whole school. Please can I ask visitors to be seated by 2:25 for a prompt start. Also please can I ask the audience to sit quietly when the children start to come into the hall. The children are expected to come in quietly and listen to the music but if the audience is noisy it can make it rather difficult

Childrens Corner

Hello Children

Are you having a good week? I hope you smiled for your photograph on Tuesday you all looked very smart. We had School Council today which was very interesting. If you have any ideas on how we can improve our school please let your school councillor know.

I have a big apology to make to Martha in Green Class. When I was sorting the list of Rainbow Readers I noticed that the numbers did not add up and I got very confused. When I checked really carefully, poor Martha had been accidentally missed off the list in May. She had not been chosen because she wasn't on the list. This has never happened before and I am so sorry Martha. I will celebrate Martha on Friday and she can choose a book from the box as she has missed out on her points.

Have a lovely week.

Mrs Matthew
